FRANKENBERGER—DAVIS.

The wedding of Miss Henrietta Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Davis of this city, to Mr. Herbert Frankenger of Charleston, W. Va., took place at the bride's home in Market street yesterday at high noon.

The house was beautifully decorated with palms and greens.

As the noon hour approached the Lohengrin Wedding March was beautifully sung by Mrs. Cummings.

First came the groom, handsome in the conventional black, with his best man and father, Mr. Max Frankenger. Then came the Maid of Honor, Miss Nannett Levi, niece of the bride, in a charming and simple dress of white organza, carrying an immense bunch of pink roses. Next came the bride with her father, beautiful in a white silk dress covered with white mirl embroidery in white satin roses, and buches and point lace. She wore the wedding veil that her three other sisters wore, and the only ornament was a handsome heart of diamonds, a gift of the groom's father. During the ceremony "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" was beautifully rendered.

Rabbi Valmer of Charleston officiated. After the bride and groom received congratulations an elegant dinner was served.

Mr. Don Davis, brother of the bride, was toast master.

The bride and groom left for the East. The bride's going away costume was a handsome tailor suit of green chiffon broadcloth.

Mr. and Mrs. Frankenger were the recipients of many useful and handsome presents.

"NEWS" THAT'S "NEWS"

Wild and Woolly Report Sent Out From This City

This appeared in The Lexington Leader a few days ago—

MAYSVILLE, KY., Feb. 4.—During last year a fifty thousand dollar warehouse and stemming factory was built here under supervision of the Continental Tobacco Company, Maysvillians furnishing the entire amount of capital to erect the building with guarantee that the stock should pay six per cent. Today the Continental Company made a proposition to take all stock, paying the principal and interest for one year. About all of the stockholders have agreed to sell.

It is rumored that the Continental will start a plug tobacco factory. It is stated that the Continental is in the field to buy tobacco at a higher price than Growers Association can afford to pay, expecting the growers to break their contracts with the Association.

There are two buildings.

One is a warehouse.

The other is not a "stemming factory," whatever that means, for whoever heard of manufacturing tobacco stems!

The two buildings cost $54,000.

The Continental did not guarantee that the stock should pay 6%, but rented the buildings for $5,400 a year, or 10% of cost, with privilege of purchase at any time at cost price.

The Continental made no proposition to take the stock by paying principal and interest for one year; consequently, neither "about all" nor any one of the stockholders have agreed to sell.

The "rumored" paragraph which winds up this wonderful bit of "news" is about on a par with the rest of the item.

With the few unimportant exceptions noted, The Leader's dispatch is all right.

At the Washington Opera-house at a recent performance a couple of ladies sitting in front of a few men were thoroughly disgusted at finding that their skirts had been fairly soaked with tobacco juice with which the gentlemen have covered the floor in their vicinity. At the same show, in another section of the lower floor, other parties munched peanuts throughout the performance. Without making any further note, patrons hope that the Managers of the Opera-house will not allow the annoyances to be repeated.

MRS. CASSIE CHADWICK has refused to sign a petition asking the Governor of Pennsylvania to commute to life imprisonment the death sentence of a woman in that state. Evidently, CASSIE signs nothing but checks and notes.

THE Lexington Leader says Judge McQuown of the counsel for the HARGISES, CALLAHAN and SPICER now frankly admits that it was impossible for CALLAHAN to be arrested and give bond in Jackson at the same time he was before the Court at Winchester, and explains Mr. CALLAHAN's reprehensible lack of ubiquitousness by saying the date of the Breathitt records should have read "December 6th" instead of "December 5th," which is a mere bagatelle, according to the official way of reckoning things in Jackson and Breathitt counties.

ALL is quiet just now in the Fayette-Breathitt legal war; and it looks like Judge HARGISE is "doing as he damn pleases."

ALTHOUGH the thermometer marked 6° below zero during the last battle, the little Japs appear to have made it too hot for the Russians. After a loss of more than 10,000 men, General KURO-PATKIN advanced backwards.

JOHANN HOCH, now on trial in Chicago for having accumulated thirty-one wives, evidently looks upon marriage as a howling success. With a few more of his enterprise, there would soon be a crimp in the old maid market.

AN inquirer asked The Courier-Journal "why it was that the Japanese did not hold Port Arthur and that part of the country which the Japs won from the Chinese in the war with them in 1894?" And the answer is thus given, being a concise history of the causes that led to the present War between Russia and Japan—

"At the close of the war between China and Japan the latter was completely victorious, and therefore able to dictate terms of peace, and the parties actually made a treaty giving to Japan all that she desired, including Port Arthur and the Liao Tung Peninsula. Thereupon, Russia, France and Germany intervened, and on specious pleas deprived Japan of the principal fruits of her victory. The combination was too powerful for Japan to resist at the time, and she yielded to the threat of superior force. Then Russia got into Manchuria, under promise to withdraw in due time. She even went so far as to fix a day for withdrawal, but failed to keep her promise. Then followed negotiations, which, proving fruitless, Japan went to war with Russia.

"It is worthy of remark that Russia is now protesting against all interference to preserve the integrity of China by those who have been mere idle speculators of the war. But in doing this she condemns her own interference ten years ago, after Japan had won a decisive victory."

ALLITERATIVE OPINION.

The final conclusion of Senator Jo is that the Boy Governor is fighting him "with malignity, mendacity, pertinacity and profanity." And of such is the present Commonwealth of Clay and of Crittenden, of Beck and Carlisle, of Brockinridge and Lindsey!
